VOLUME XXIV. NO. 42.

PAW PAW, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1878.

WHOLE NO. 1238.

LONG BRICK STORE.

The undersigned begs to call attention once more to the arrival of another large amount of
DRY GOODS, READY-MADE CLOTHING,
BOOTS & SHOES.

It is to be expected from the magnitude of our purchases that the people will find something more than ordinary assortment to make their purchases from, and further, it is reasonable to suppose from the position which I occupy in the mercantile market, that bargains can be offered and will be daily exhibited at the LONG BRICK STORE, sufficiently great to awaken an interest in the minds of every purchaser and throw around the LONG BRICK STORE a charm that none can dispel.

Low Prices, and a strict adherence to fair and honorable dealing, is the magnet which attracts and retains a large concourse of people, and in the end will secure to me a triumphant and enviable position from among the good and bad of the fraternity at the present day.

A large line of LADIES BEAVER CLOAKS, Cheap. I cannot stop to enumerate goods and prices, you must come and see for yourselves.

FIFTY PERCENTS, PRINTS 30 INCHES WIDE.

I dare not name the price outside the counter.

For the first time, I have been able to purchase a

PURE RUBBER BOOT,

And warrant them not to crack, if so, a new pair is given in their place. Now come and buy RUBBER BOOTS.

Remember where you can buy
SHIRTS AND DRAWERS,
For 20 cents each.
And those
ALL WOOL FILLING TWEEDS,
For 25 cents a yard.

So don't delay a moment longer.
Endorsements never can be stronger.
Below we have stacks of Dry-Goods wares.
Our Ready-Made Clothing, that's up stairs.
So note it be.

Respectfully yours,
E. SMITH & CO.

You Can Be Happy

If you will stop all your extravagant and wrong notions in doctoring yourself and families with expensive doctors or humbug cures, that do harm always, and use only nature's simple remedies for all your ailments—you will be wise, well and happy, and save great expense. The greatest remedy for the great, wise and good will tell you, is Hop Bitters—believe it. See "Proverbs" in another column.

THE GENUINE
DR. C. McLANE'S
Celebrated American
WORM SPECIFIC OR VERMIFUGE.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS.

THE countenance is pale and leaden-colored, with occasional flushes, or a circumscribed spot on one or both cheeks; the eyes become dull; the pupils dilate; an azure semicircle runs along the lower eyelid; the nose is irritated, swells, and sometimes bleeds; a swelling of the upper lip; occasional headache, with humming or throbbing of the ears; an unusual secretion of saliva; slimy or furred tongue; breath very foul, particularly in the morning; appetite variable, sometimes voracious, with a gnawing sensation of the stomach, at others, entirely gone; fleeting pains in the stomach; occasional nausea and vomiting; violent pains throughout the abdomen; bowels irregular, at times costive; stools slimy; not unfrequently tinged with blood; belly swollen and hard; urine turbid; respiration occasionally difficult, and accompanied by hiccup; cough sometimes dry and convulsive; uneasy and disturbed sleep, with grinding of the teeth; temper variable, but generally irritable, &c.

Whenever the above symptoms are found to exist,
DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE will certainly effect a cure.

IT DOES NOT CONTAIN MERCURY in any form; it is an innocent preparation, not capable of doing the slightest injury to the most tender infant.

The genuine Dr. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE bears the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrapper.

LIVER PILLS

are not recommended as a remedy "for all the ills that flesh is heir to," but in affections of the liver, and in all Bilious Complaints, Dyspepsia and Sick Headache, or diseases of that character, they stand without a rival.

AGUE AND FEVER.

No better cathartic can be used preparatory to, or after taking Quinine.

As a simple purgative they are unequalled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Each box has a red wax seal on the lid with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

Each wrapper bears the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS.

Insist upon having the genuine Dr. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

TUTT'S PILLS!

A NOTED DIVINE SAYS
THEY ARE WORTH THEIR WEIGHT IN GOLD
READ WHAT HE SAYS:

DR. T.—Dear Sir: For ten years I have been a martyr to Dyspepsia, Constipation and Piles. Last Spring your Pills were recommended to me: I used them (but with little faith). I am now a well man, have good appetite, digestion perfect, regular stools, piles gone, and I have gained forty pounds solid flesh. They are worth their weight in gold.

REV. R. L. SIMPSON, Louisville, Ky.

A TORPID LIVER

Is the fruitful source of many diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Constipation, Dysentery, Bilious Fever, Ague and Fever, Jaundice, Piles, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, Colic, etc.

Tutt's Pills exert a powerful influence on the Liver and will with certainty relieve that important organ from disease, and restore its normal functions.

The rapidity with which persons take on flesh, while under the influence of these pills, of itself indicates their adaptability to nourish the body, hence their efficacy in curing nervous debility, Dyspepsia, wasting of the muscles, sluggishness of the liver, chronic constipation, and imparting health and strength to the system.

CONSTIPATION.

Only with regularity of the bowels can perfect health be enjoyed. When the constipation is of recent date, a single dose of TUTT'S PILLS will suffice, but if it has become habitual, one pill should be taken every night, gradually lessening the frequency of the dose until a regular daily movement is obtained, which will soon follow.

SOLD EVERYWHERE, 25 CENTS.

OFFICE, 35 MURRAY ST., NEW YORK.

SELLERS OF LIVER PILLS

have sold for 30 years the Best Liver Pills in the world. DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS are the only ones that will cure the Liver, Biliousness, Constipation, Sick Headache, and all derangements of the Liver. DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS are the only ones that will cure the Liver, Biliousness, Constipation, Sick Headache, and all derangements of the Liver. DR. C. #### THE WEDDING.

"The moon is up, and yet it is not night—
Sunset divides the sky with her—"
Byron

Pale floats the moon above the clouds,
The sun lifts red—Day woees the Night,
Warms and illumines her leaven abroad,
And shadow mixes with the light.

Day weds the Night—the morning sky
Divided 'twixt the moon and sun,
As if the pale bride passed not by
But glided into Day as one.

Brighter and lovelier the bride,
Proud is the bridegroom newly wed;
With song of birds the festal glide,
With fruit and flowers the banquet spread.

The revel's o'er—in Western air
Light lessons with the evening's close;
Soft is the couch—the bridal pair
Twine gently in a sweet repose.

Veiled eyes, and darkness' shadowy form—
But look! the East, Day's opening orb!—
Reluctant Night untwines her arm,
The bridegroom's conquering rays absorb.

Correspondence of the Lansing Republican.

Woman Suffrage in Wyoming

CHEYENNE, WYOMING TERRITORY, }
Nov. 6, 1878.

Yesterday was election day in the territory of Wyoming, and in this fastest city of the far west I observed with interest what to me seemed an old phenomenon. It was the practical operation of under free, full, and lawful sway—the women voting as the men, unmolested, unhampered by even the faintest public sentiment.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Cheyenne is a wicked town. It is the home of many vicious and abandoned women. There are more saloons in proportion to the population than perhaps in any other city, and there are probably more houses of prostitution than saloons. If woman suffrage will work here, it ought to work anywhere. I was born and brought up to believe that it was wicked for women to vote; that their business was to make pies and quilts and take care of babies. I was taught to believe that if one did vote, she would be called upon at once to shoulder a musket and fight a battle; and that if they all voted, every social restraint would be broken; all respect for the sex would cease; and disorder, anarchy, and libertinism would be rampant. I therefore watched the event of yesterday with peculiar interest, and was solemnly impressed with the result. There were but few offices to be filled, but few candidates in the field, and political feeling ran high. There were those around who vote early and often, those who button-hole the weak-minded, and those who buy and sell and barter votes. There were reckless "cow-punchers" from Texas and Oregon, Black Hills adventurers from everywhere, castaways and wanderers. All conditions were favorable for disorder, and unfavorable, it would seem, for a peaceful and quiet day. But (and I say it with all possible candor) I have never in my life witnessed a more orderly and dignified election, and I do not see how one could be made or desired more peaceable and decorous.

About the polls were gathered the usual cluster of eager men. The ladies were driven up in carriages, assisted to alight, and of course closely scrutinized while they deposited their ballots. But there was no swearing, no boorish swaggering, no jeering, no loud talking even. The scene was impressive, and there was something of solemnity about it. Aged matrons, whose gray heads and bending forms seemed to render them nearer to heaven than to earth, put in their votes, while the bystanders kept breathless silence; the fond mother with her babe clinging to her bosom,—emblem of fidelity and innocence—cast her vote with seriousness and seeming perfect propriety; and gay young girls, just of age, who I supposed were never expected to know, or think, or care anything about politics or political science or good government, deposited their ballots with evident earnestness and thoughtful intelligence.

At the voting place where I watched for an hour, there was stationed near the window, where the votes were received, the dignified and imposing figure of the estimable governor of the territory, Hon. J. W. Hoyt of Wisconsin. All the men near by wore a gentlemanly appearance; the ladies were attired in their prettiest, and all seemed doing their best to do good. I did not see manifested toward the women voters any sentiment save that of respect. During all the day the carriages came and went; and when the noted queens of the demi-monde, in their gaudy, costly dresses, came to exercise their right, the hangers-on seemed to remember that they once performed had been women, and to respect them for the virtues they then had. Nor when the "soiled doves" of lesser dignity (the lowest of the abandoned) came, was there any disrespect shown them? Not even when a tall, thin, nervous, wire-pulling Irishman (democrat of course) led by the arm a fat and dumpy old negro, who strutted laboriously with feet wide asunder and eyes cast heavenward, did I observe more than a slightly audible smile pass over the assembly. The day was one more than ordinarily respectful and orderly.

Although I viewed the event not at all as a sympathizer but as one strongly prejudiced against what was transpiring, I can truly say that with what I saw of the practical working of the doctrine of woman's suffrage, I was most favorably impressed. Since the election there has been no unbridled plundering, neither have I seen any women with guns. The experience of yesterday did more to change my views concerning this matter than all the argument I have ever listened to; and I am now not sure that any good people should deny to every intelligent, mature human mind the same rights and privileges, no matter in what kind of a body it happens to be clothed withal.

HENRY A. HARRIS.

Every one must remark that a favorite article of winter clothing for children is a comortor swathed around the neck. This is a great error; the feet and wrists are the proper members to keep warm; the face and throat will harden into a healthy indifference to cold; but that miller, exchanged for an extra pair of thick socks and knitted gloves, would preserve a boy or girl really warm and well. Rheumatism and sore throat have declined 50 per centum since the absurd use of high collars and twice round neckerchiefs went out of fashion; and if the poor would take better care of their children's feet half the infantile mortality would disappear. It only costs a trifle to put a piece of thick felt or cork into the bottom of a boot or shoe, but the difference is often considerable between that and a doctor's bill, with perhaps the undertaker's beside. [Green Mountain Freeman.

A retired detective, in writing up the records of his twenty-five years' experience, was greatly surprised to discover that on two or three occasions he had come very near catching somebody.—[Burlington Hawkeye.
